

Hunter Water S170 Register

SHI No.: Name:
3630009 Charlestown High Level Tank

Location Lot 2 Pacific Hwy, Adamstown Heights NSW 2289

Other ID nos IW ID: 9. Other ID: WRCHA2.

Description:

Two concrete reservoirs: 1. An elevated, tapered, open structure 2. An on slab insitu concrete tank, rendered, painted and muralised.

Significance:

Charlestown HLT is a representative example of a small elevated steel tank installed to boost local water pressure.

Assessed Significance: Local

Endorsed Significance: Local

Historical Notes:

Constructed: c. 1953-1954

Installation of the Charlestown High Level Tank was commenced and completed in the year 1953-54.

Designer/Builder: Hunter District Water Board

Current Use: Water storage

Former Uses:

Physical Condition:

Further Information:

Located on hill top.

Recommended Management:

- This item contributes to local character and should be conserved.
- Original details should be maintained including doors, windows and original signage.
- New materials should be sympathetic to the nature and character of the original building.
- In the event of major proposed changes, prepare a Conservation Management Strategy and undertake an archival recording.
- Wherever possible, changes should be restricted to the interior of the building.
- Routine maintenance of existing fabric is essential.

References:

Clem Lloyd, Patrick Troy and Shelley Schreiner 1992, For the Public Health. The Hunter District Water Board 1892-1992. Publisher: Longman Cheshire Pty Ltd, Melbourne.

Department of Public Works , Annual Reports, 1888 to 1892 and 1893-94 to 1960-61.

Glennie Jones 1967, The Movement for Newcastle's First Water Supply 1875-1885, Newcastle History Monographs No. 2. Publisher: The Council of the City of Newcastle, Newcastle.

Hunter District Water Board , Annual Reports, 1938-39 to 1987-88.

Hunter District Water Supply and Sewerage Board , Annual Reports, 1897-98 to 1937-38.

Hunter Water Board , Annual Reports, 1988-89 to 1990-91.

Hunter Water Corporation , Annual Reports, 1991-92 to 2008-09.

John W Armstrong 1967, Pipelines and People. The History of the Hunter District Water Board Newcastle, New South Wales. Publisher: The Hunter District Water Board, Newcastle.

Mal Hindley 1983, 'From Weirs, Dams and Sand', in Shaping the Hunter. Publisher: The Newcastle Division of the Institute of Engineers Australia, Newcastle.

Studies:

- 1 Futurepast Heritage Consulting Pty Ltd 2010, 'Hunter Water Conservation and Heritage Register Study'. Reference: .

Hunter Water S170 Register

Listings:

1 Heritage Act - s.170 NSW State agency heritage register:

Listing date: . Reference Number:

Data Entry: Date First Entered: 26/Apr/2010 Date Updated: 10/Sep/2010 Status: Partial

Hunter Water S170 Register

Images

Charlestown High Level Tank

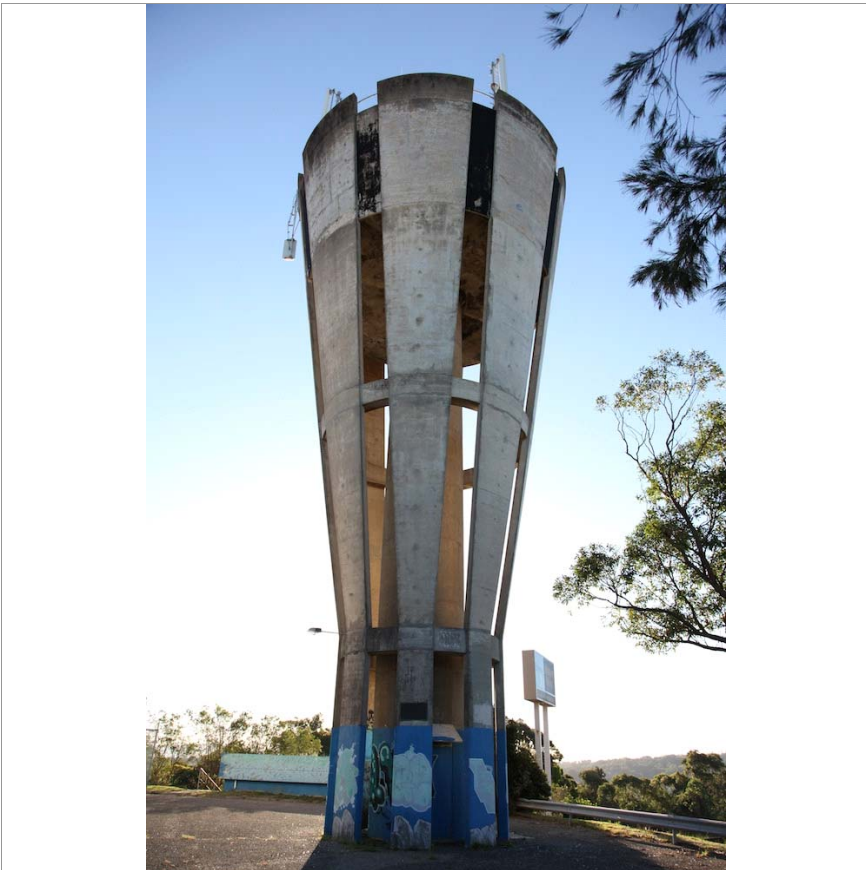

File: Charlestown HLT.jpg

Copyright:

Image by: Futurepast Heritage Consulting Pty Ltd

Date: 29/04/2010

Thumbnail: t_Charlestown HLT.jpg

Charlestown High Level Tank

File: Charlestown HLT 2.jpg

Copyright:

Image by: Futurepast Heritage Consulting Pty Ltd

Date: 29/04/2010

Thumbnail: t_Charlestown HLT 2.jpg

Hunter Water S170 Register

Charlestown High Level Tank (Courtesy of Google Earth)

File: charlestown hlt
GE.jpg

Copyright:

Image by: Google Earth

Date:

Thumbnail: t_charlestown hlt
GE.jpg

Charlestown High Level Tank - Historic Image

File: charlestown hlt hi
1.jpg

Copyright:

Image by:

Date:

Thumbnail:

Hunter Water S170 Register

Charlestown High Level Tank - Historic Image

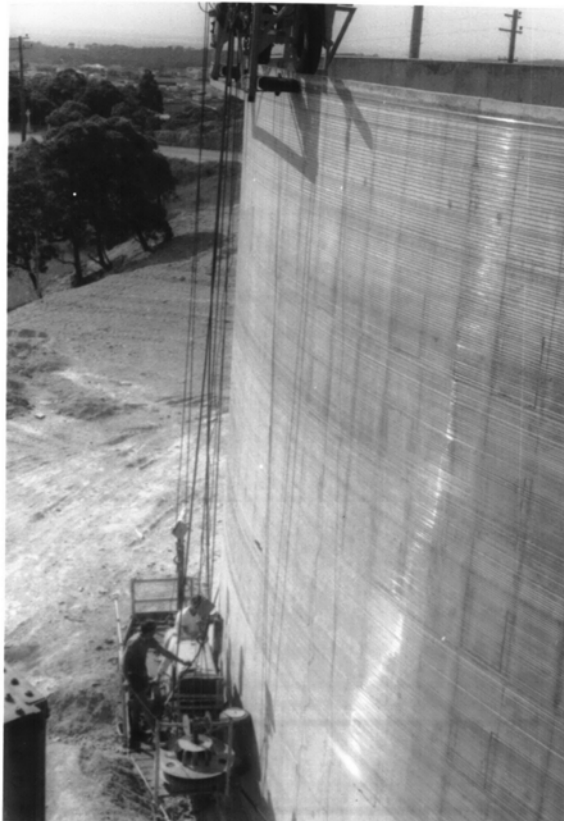

File: charlestown hlt hi 2.jpg

Copyright:

Image by:

Date:

Thumbnail:

Charlestown High Level Tank

File: charlestown hlt hi 3.jpg

Copyright:

Image by:

Date:

Thumbnail: